HSLAB Text2SMS is an easy-to-use application that allows you to send SMS messages to your phone fast and easy. You can write messages about any events in your system and send them to your cellular phones. It also allows you to be well informed about events descending in your network using free HSLAB system monitoring kit (Admin NT Utilities Set, included in package). The program supports an unlimited number of a different configurations. You can use command line switches for starting from command line in batch mode or interactively. You can send messages for many recipients or groups of recipients at once!. You can send eny text files to the celular phone as SMS. It can be made with any file manager (Explorer, Windows Commander, e.t.c), which supports the Windows context menu with "Send To" item. HSLAB Text2SMS adds in the "Send To" menu item "Mobile Phone As SMS". Simple right click on file and select "Send To" "Mobile Phone As SMS".

The biostable amorphous silicon compounds known heretofore generally suffer from inferior photoelectronic properties, in addition to some undesirable physical and chemical properties. Among the disadvantages are that they are crystalline in nature and their conversion to amorphous form for photovoltaic applications is usually accompanied by an increase in the energy gap, which is undesirable. Another disadvantage is that they are usually metastable with respect to crystallization. Still another disadvantage is that they are usually characterized by a low level of photoconductivity and hence by a slow photogenerated current flow. Still another disadvantage is that they can not be readily doped or modified by known techniques. Some of these disadvantages are listed in detail in U.S. Pat. No. 3,532,519. In the semiconductor field, the term "amorphous" means a state of disorder of the crystal structure, the short-range order, and the long-range order of the positions of the atoms in the solid. By contrast, the term "crystalline" means a state of local order of the atoms in the solid with respect to their positions in a regular repeating structure.

Therefore, the term "amorphous", as used herein, indicates a non-crystalline state. Accordingly, it is an object of this invention to provide a novel class of biostable amorphous silicon compounds which are highly electrically conductive, are non-crystalline, are readily

KEYMACRO stands for "KeePass Macro Definitions" and can be found in the "Base" menu. The program allows you to configure defined passwords for all KeePass files (KeePass v1.60.4 or later). The macro definition file is just a text file in the same folder as KeePass (or KeePassDLL). The program starts when you open KeePass and loads the defined passwords into KeePass. KEYMACRO works with all versions of KeePass: KeePass v1.60.4 and newer. KeePass v1.53.3 and newer. KeePass v1.41.3 and newer. KeePass v1.30.1 and newer. This is not a replacement for KeePassDLL. It's a different implementation of the same concept. After downloading the free "Inbox" component, the "KeyMacro" functionality of the "Inbox" component needs to be enabled in "Settings"->"General"->"Use Inbox (if you have a paid "Inbox" subscription)".

NOTE: You can also use the other KeePass components, like "Inbox Pro", "KeeShare", "KeePassX", etc. to implement the functionality, if you wish. An example of a KeyMacro definition file:

----- Example keymacro.txt
file ----- PasswordFormat=Al
waysHidden

DatabasePath=C:\KeePass
DefaultUserName=Administrator
DefaultKey=Pbkdf2HmacSHA1
DefaultPassword=5lKIS3kUneu3Cyz7mP3Dx4nF+x+vl5uK8= -----

The program is written in Delphi and is licensed under a 30% "small fee" in order to provide the possibility to develop free software.

----- ----- System requirements: The program must be able to run without problems on Windows 2000,

Windows NT and Windows XP. When using HSLAB NT Utilities, the program should work. For the utility set, a Windows Server 2008/Windows 7/Windows 8/Windows 10 license is required (Inbox Pro license key is not needed). For a free HSLAB.COM admin NT utilities set with Inbox: Windows 2003 or newer. For the utilities set, a Windows Server 2008/Windows 7/Windows 8/Windows 10

license is 1d6a3396d6
