The lands between Alsiel, Iridel, and the Imperial City; the area of Mythril mines, where the roads of Mythril between the cities branch and converge. In the mythical age, this land was called The Lands Between because of the uncertain connections between the various cities. Legend has it that in the depths of the mine, there is a key to the emeralds, the holy emeralds. The Elden, an elite class of warriors that lived in this time, used it to control the Mythril mines and furthered their power over the land. The key to the myth was sealed and locked away in the labyrinth, the central structure of the Mythril mines. In that labyrinth, there is a secret door that will open, inviting you to the Mythril underworld, where the waters of the realm of Geors will descend, and the great Elden will be born. "I have the intention of someday being a character in an LoL game who can achieve the intangible 'Thalia's French fries=']

Everyone try to make it. I have the intention of someday being a character in an LoL game who can achieve the intangible "Thalia's French fries=" =/ which were researched and approved by one of the hardest working women in eSports history, Thalia herself. But I'm not there yet. Anyone else have the same "vision"? Is there anything you can do to help us achieve the goal? --- There is a real chance that I will be making a decision within the next 4/5 months, if I don't make it by November, I'll probably be joining a mobile team. I have the honors, but the lack of core knowledge is my biggest worry. The 36-hole model is a great idea, but I don't think it would suit our current (4th) team. It should be working around a team's strengths, stats in a non-linear way. This is based on gameplay experience though, and if anyone would like to correct me or provide some feedback, that would be really helpful. I'll fix up the math if someone send me a youtube vid :p Shambles."

While spending some time on the water is wonderful, you will also get to enjoy a very relaxing vacation from the confines of a boat. One of our favorite ways to spend our weekends and get away from it all is by renting kayaks and camping on the Gulf Coast. It gives us great freedom and allows us to go where we want, when we want and enjoy a full vacation. For us, a relaxing kayak vacation means time to read, relax, play games and enjoy the times we spend on the water. I love my kayak and I love going on vacation on the water. For vacationer like me, sleeping under the stars is one of the highlights of any vacation. I like to sleep under the stars, because if you sleep under the stars, you are there, you are one with the trees, the grass and the world around you. Ernie and I both enjoy kayaking. Ernie is an avid kayak enthusiast and has a love for all things that involve the water. We both decided it would be a great idea to take a vacation together on the water. We took a quick trip out to Tampa Bay to rent a few kayaks and enjoy the water together. This time, we decided to make our stay a bit longer because we wanted to be able to get out on the water and enjoy the Florida sunshine.
